BUILDING SCALES -- Focus on clean, accurate articulation as you build these four scales.
Choose a beginning tempo that feels a bit too slow, and aim for a tempo that feels a bit too fast.

TRIPLETS -- Short, light articulation and steady tempo. These triplets become more approachable when you practice them this way first, then changing the middle note to a lower neighbor later.

THE BIG BUILD -- Don't Panic! Focus on the music, and let strong air do the heavy lifting. This exact transposition starts in friendly range, and ascends by half-steps. A tried-and-true method for mastering stratospheric passages, like Ravel's Bolero
